SITUATION UP TO PRESIDENT

Series of Telegrams Fly Between Border and Washington

MUST DECIDE TANGLE

Generally Believed Withdrawal of Troops Would Result in More Raids on American Towns

Washington, May 1—Maj. Gen. Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff, was instructed today to inform Gen. Alvaro Obregon, Carranza's minister of war, that theUnited States cannot consider any proposal for the withdrawal of the Pershing expedition until the forces of the de facto government have demonstrated their ability to preserve order along the American frontier.

El Paso, Tex. May 1.—The question of withdrawing the punitive expedition from Mexico, is up to President Wilson today.

A rapid-fire exchange of telegrams between Secretary of War Baker at Washington, and Gens. Scott and Funston in El Paso, this morning indicated that the Administration had not fully decided on its policy.

Major Sample, commandant at Columbus, N. M., was called into play during the night and ordered to obtain Gen. Pershing's opinion on the Carranza demand for immediate withdrawal.

Scott is said to be luke-warm on this issue before the international conference here. Funston is strong against yielding to the Mexican demand. Both, however, put the matter squarely up to Washington.

Secretary Baker was reported to have asked the American envoys what effect withdrawal would have on the border and in Mexico.

The two generals replied in a long code message understood to have contained the opinion that withdrawal would undoubtedly lead to renewed border raids.

KILLED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Machine Runs Into Barbed Wire Fence in Maryland

Death won in a race for the life of George Zagos, 35, of 1125 Tenth street Washington along the Marlboro road of Maryland last night. Zagos was injured forty miles below Washington in an automobile accident. He died in the arms of his friend, Lee E. Walker, in a speeding automobile racing for Emergency Hospital. Death occurred before the course was half run.

Zagos, who was proprietor of the Ohio lunch room at 814 Fourteenth street, was out for a motor tour with friends Walker, living at the same Tenth street address, and Walker's wife and son, Sydney. They were returning from Chapel Point Beach Md, Near Cox station the automobile, speeding at thirty miles an hour, struck a rut and Zagos lost control.

The machine plunged to the roadside and into a barbed wire fence. Zagos was thrown against the steering wheel. Mrs. Walker landed on top of him. Mrs. Walker was badly bruised and a rib was broken. Sydney, the son, was cut across his neck by the barbed wire.

A few moments later, a machine drove up occupied by M R. Edlavitch and M. J. Edlavitch, of Upper Marlboro, whom Zagos and the Walkers had met at the beach resort. The Edlavitch brothers placed Walker and the three injured persons in the automobile and sped for the home of Dr. Spencer, a mile and a half away. Dr. Spencer pronounced Zagos fatally injured internally.

Forty miles from Washington the race against death was begun. M. R. Edlavitch, disregarding the rough highway, threw on the speed. The injured man rested in the arms of Walker. Half way to Washington Zagos died.

The automobile reached Emergency Hospital about 9 o'clock Physicians said Zagos had been dead an hour.

ACCIDENT TO AUTOISTS.

Machine Turns Double Somersault Near Alexandria.

An automobile operated by William H. Keeney, 22 years old, Woodbridge, Va., accompanied by Graham C. Davis, 22 years old, Occoquan, Va., running north on the Washington and Alexandria pike yesterday morning at 3 o'clock, when, near Johnson Hill, a little south of the south end of the Highway bridge, turned a double somersault, throwing the occupants out and into the ditch, injuring Kenney about the head and face. Davis escaped with a few scratches. The accident was due to the steering gear of the machine becoming disarranged. The Emergency Hospital ambulance brought the men to the hospital.

The automobile was badly damaged. Persons who saw the damaged machine and looked over the lay of the ground where the accident happened, say that the wonder is that both men were not instantly killed.

SUICIDE OF H. B. QUINN

Well-Known Alexandria Machinist Shoots Homself This Afternoon

Harry B. Quinn, son of the late Edward Quinn, committed suicide abous 2 o'clock this afternoon by shooting himself through the right temple at his home, 511 Oronoco street. The deceased had been upon the street, apparently in his normal condition, up to about 1:45 o'clock. Upon reaching his home he went to his room, and a few moments later the report of a pistol caused a domestic of the household to repair to his room, where, to her horror, she saw Mr Quinn in the act of breathing his last. Dr. T. M. Jones the coroner was notified.

Mr. Quinn enjoyed a large circle of acquaintances. He was a machinist by trade, and was employed up to a few weeks ago at the Washington navy yard. He was a past Exalted Ruler of Alexandria Lodge of Elks. He is survived by five brothers and one sister—Messrs. James, William, Martin, Edward and Frank T. Quinn, and Mrs. Jefferson Aitcheson.

Some time ago, it will be remembered, Mr. Quinn fell down a stairway at his home, and for a time it was supposed his injuries would prove fatal. He was taken to the Alexandria Hospital, where his convalescence was slow and tedious. He had long been a sufferer from ill health. The deceased was about 35 years of age and was unmarried.

Mr. Quinn was for several years chairman of the city republican committee.

GERMANY SEEMS ABOUT TO COMPLY

No Recent Submarine Attacks Made Involving Americans

ONE OFFICIAL'S VIEW

Kaiser's Reply to United States Not Expected in Washington Before Next Week.

Washington, May 1—The German government's reply to the American demands for abandonment of present methods of submarine warfare is not expected here before the middle of the week.

Administration officials reached this conclusion when yesterday passed without definite word from Ambassador Gerard as to when the reply may be expected. It will require at least 48 hours, officials said, for coding, transmission and decoding of the note. Hope of having the reply in time for cabinet discussion Tuesday was given up yesterday.

There was no diminution of the air of hopefulness in official and diplomatic quarters, although some officials were inclined to await Berlin's reply before accepting at face value the encouraging signs that have appeared in the last few days.

One official, however, who has consistently held to the view that a break will be avoided, made the significant statement that Germany already has complied with one of the basic demands of the American note.

The fact that there has not been an official report of a single submarine attack involving American lives or interests since the President dispatched his note to Germany, was evidence, this official said, that Germany has "effected an abandonment" of the submarine warfare.

The President demanded that Germany should "declare and effect" such abandonment. What now remains, therefore, as a condition precedent to diplomatic negotiations for settlement of the controversy is for Germany to "declare" that it has suspended this warfare, at least during the period of discussion.

If, as has been clearly indicated, Berlin will take this step, the immediately critical stage of the conflict will disappear and the two governments can enter into a calm discussion of a basis of settlement that will satisfy this government's demands without robbing Germany of its strongest naval weapon.

It has been apparent the last few days that the administration has held the view that Germany complied with one of the President's demands by suspending the submarine campaign in which it has been engaged since March 1. This is believed to account for the administration's willingness to give Germany ample time to reply to the note, although an "immediate" reply was demanded at the time.

Twelve days have elapsed since the German note was sent. At the outset it was said a reply would be expected within three or four days. The German government's action in suspending submarine activities, apparently, has been accepted as sufficient reply to the demand for immediate abandonment of the illegal actions complained of. At any rate no step has been taken by the State Department.

UNITED STATES AND GERMANY

Conditions it is Said Continue to Improve

Berlin, May 1—"Germany's course must not be dictated by temporary tactical advantages, but rather by the exigencies of the entire situation, military and naval," declares Dr. Bernard Dernburg, former secretary for the colonies in a lengthy leader in the Tageblatt entitled "Germany and America."

Dr. Dernburg's editorial is distinctly friendly, conciliatory and hopeful. He concludes:

"It is to be hoped that an understanding will be reached which will conserve out national dignity and whereby we may retain our relations with the United States without having to lessen the force of our activity."

Dr. Dernburg declares that in making the decision Germany must take into consideration her relations with all neutrals, the effect of the entrance of a new and powerful enemy, the conditions respecting food and raw material in Germany and the possibility of attaining peace.

"It must be determined what concessions will ward off the threatening American danger," he continues, "and in how far our prospect in defeating our enemies may be lessened thereby. Briefly, our entire situation must be weighed in the balance. We must let neither national sensitiveness nor a superfeeling of honor govern us, and if we feel strong enough to achieve victory even if we make certain concessions, then we may make them without forfeiting our self-respect."

The writer calls attention to the support of President Wilson by all parties and declares that the President bases his entire case on the Lusitania, Arabic and Sussex, passenger ships torpedoed without warning, not on countless other cases in which attempted flight or resistance justified the submarine commander in torpedoing.

The Sussex, declares Dr. Dernburg was torpedoed contrary to assurances given by the German government, and the proof adduced at least admits the possibility that the American claims that Germany is responsible may be well grounded, although the representations to America show that it may have been due to a mistake by the commander rather than to bad intent.

The writer says that the present is no time to discuss America's earnestness or her disposition "to please Germany upon a tall moral horse." He adds:

"The point today is that America is convinced of the justice of her demands. That nation has been seized with an explosive sentiment only paralleled by her feeling prior to the Spanish war."

Aside from the Von Reventlow article in the Tagas Zeitung, the Botrsen Zeitung is the only other paper to discuss the American situation. It warns the public against too great optimism, though admitting that Ambassador Gerard's trip to headquarters is a favorable omen.

WOMAN REBEL LEADER CAUGHT

Other Heads of Revolt in Ireland Surrender Today

MILLIONS ARE LOST

Priests Aiding in Suppressing the Rebellion—Seven British Officers Are Killed

London, May 1.—All the Dublin commanders have surrendered, it was officially announced this afternoon.

Dublin, May 1.—Irish rebels who were holding St. Stephens Green surrendered to the government forces last night.

About 450 others, entrenched in the central part of the city, laid down their arms at the foot of Parnell monument.

The government forces now occupy Four Courts, the last portion of the downtown district to be surrendered by the rebels.

The seven days' Irish rebellion passed into history early today.

Troops are making a systematic canvass of the city today, searching every house for arms and ammunition, and arresting suspects in houses where rebel uniforms were found.

London, May 1—While the government officials assert that the revolution in Ireland has been practically suppressed and that the leaders have surrendered unconditionally, it is reported that the rebellion has not been stamped out, but only temporarily quelled in Dublin after much bloodshed and the destruction of property in the very heart of the city valued at over $5,000,000.

Five British army officers were killed and 21 wounded on Saturday and yesterday, in addition to two killed and five wounded earlier in the week.

The postoffice and several other important public buildings have been burned.

The Countess of Markievicz, an ardent militant socialist and a leader in the rebellion has been arrested.

Last night's official report also says that the Four Courts district has been recaptured and that messengers have been sent from the leaders of the Dublin rebels to other rebels in Galway, Clare, Wexford, Louth and Dublin counties ordering them to surrender.

Most of the newspaper reports from Dublin and other parts of Ireland are delayed. A dispatch received said:

"The situation in Dublin has considerably improved, but the rebels still were offering serious resistance in the neighborhood of Sackville street," said a statement issued by Field Marshal Viscount French, at 11:30 o'clock last night. "The cordon of troops encircling this quarter, however, was steadily closing in, but house to house fighting necessarily rendered progress slow. The postoffice and the block of buildings east of Sackville street have been destroyed by fire. A party of rebels has been driven out of Bolands Mills in Rings End by guns mounted on motor lories. One of the rebel leaders, a man named Pearse, is reported wounded in the leg. A report received yesterday evening stated that Pearse had surrounded unconditionally and that he asserted he had been authorized to accept the same terms of surrender for his followers in Dublin another leader, James Connolly, has been reported killed.

GLASS RAPS PACIFISTS

"Some Things Worse Than War," Says Virginian

Washington, May 1—"There are some things worse than war. Virginia has homes which might be desolated and mothers who might be distressed and sons who might be sacrificed. Two of Virginia's boys are my own, and I would have them hear me say, without a tremor, in the spirit which I hope animates their hearts, that I would rather be pursued through time and eternity by the pitiful apparition of their shattered forms than to see my country dishonored and its flag hauled down in disgrace."

These words are in part the answer and defiance Representative Carter Glass, of Virginia, makes to the German-American senders of anti-war telegrams, in which he is urged to bring about Congressional repudiation of President Wilson's stand against Germany's submarine warfare methods. Mr. Glass has received many congratulatory letters from Virginia.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY..

United Irish Societies Met in New York Last Night.

New York, May 1.—Several thousand men and women of Irish birth or sympathy, who attended mass meetings here last night under the auspices of the United Irish Societies, passed resolutions of sympathy for the Dublin revolutionists and thanked Germany "for extending to Ireland as far as the present military situation will permit the same kind of aid as was rendered the infant American republic by France."

The hope was expressed that Germany's assistance would become enlarged to an extent that Ireland might "be recognized as a belligerent and an ally of the central powers, her civil and military rights asserted and a place secured for her in the congress of the nations which will settle the terms of peace."

Mention of the names of John Redmond, leader of the Irish nationalists, and Sir Edward Carson brought forth many hisses form the audience, while reference to Sir Roger Casement caused wild cheering.

Fire in a house in Ballenger's Lane, Duke street extended, at 8 o'clock last night brought out the department. The fire was extinguished before the engines arrived.

ALLIES AGAIN ON OFFENSIVE

French Capture Two German Trenches and 83 Prisoners

DESTROY AEROPLANES

Berlin Reports French Repulse and Capture of Russian Cannon—Austrian Trenches Retaken

London, May 1—The offensive on the western front again has passed into the hands of the Allies. The distinguished feature of yesterday's official report is the repetition of the phrases "French attack" and "English attack."

The French assaults around Verdun began on Saturday- night- and lasted through most of yesterday They were directed chiefly on the Dead Man Hill region, to the north of the famous hill 304.

By Saturday night the Germans had been driven out of the trenches they had held to the north of Dead Man, leaving a batch of prisoners in the hands of the French.

The German official report speaks of a strong French attack, omits any reference to the French winning on the north, but claims to have repulsed another attack "on the east slope of Dead Man Hill."

Yesterday the Germans attempted to drive the French out of their newly gained positions, but the French held on and, sweeping round the east directed another attack on the German lines north of Cumieres, just below Bethincourt.

Here they were again successful and ended the two days' fighting with the capture of another trench and a second batch of prisoners. The French also reported bringing down seven German aeroplanes at different points.

On the English line the attempt to strike at the German base at Lille has been vigorously pushed. A number of attacks have been delivered from the forces gathered at Givenchy, between Labasse and Bethune, which the early German official report describes as "unsuccessful."

The official report from British headquarters in France states that near Messines the Germans liberated a great quantity of gas and attacked, but were repulsed by the British artillery.

At one point the Germans succeeded in entering the British trenches, but were immediately expelled by a bomb attack.

GRAND LODGE I. O. O. F.

Annual Convocation Will Open In Lynchburg On Tuesday, May 9

Much interest is being manifested throughout the state in the next annual convocation of the grand lodge of Odd Fellows, which will assemble in Lynchburg on Tuesday, May 9.

Many subjects of importance to the order will be presented and discussed. Chief among them will be the provision for creating the office of grand lecturer, whose duty it will be to visit lodges requiring attention in the way of instructions in the work, the laws and usages of order, as well as assisting lodges that have become weak to strengthen their membership.

Another matter that will receive the attention of the grand lodge is the abolition of useless committees, which have become an expense to the grand lodge without effecting any benefit to the order. Economy will be the watchword both in the administration of the affairs of the grand lodge and the home.

There are also rumors that a measure will be introduced that will curtail the number of representatives to the grand lodge, and thereby reduce the expenses to a minimum.

The per capita and home tax will receive attention, and an effort will be made to decrease the present tax, which many lodges claim is too burdensome for them to bear and exist.

BLAZE ON EVERGLADES

Pleasure Boat Damaged to Extent of $25,000 by Fire Last Saturday

Only the hull of the handsome pleasure yacht, Everglades, belonging to Col. Robert N. Thompson, of Washington, remains at the wharf of the Marine Railway and Coal Company at the foot of Franklin street, the superstructure having been destroyed and the interior gutted in a fire Saturday afternoon. The fire started in the engine room beneath the floor and despite the efforts of the crew and the local firemen gained such rapidity that the entire vessel was soon in flames. Several of the firemen had narrow escapes when they were caught in the engine room.

The fire lasted an hour and a half It attracted a throng of several thousand persons, many of whom viewed the blaze from the surrounding hills.

Col. Thompson arrived in his limousine from Washington just as the firemen were finishing their work. The yacht was built for him at Indian River, Fla., in 1903 at a cost of $50,000.

The Everglades was one of the finest in this section of the country. It was finished on the interior with mahogany and in addition to its handsome furnishings there were many valuable souvenirs aboard, among them photographs of celebrities which had been presented to Col. Thompson. The loss is estimated at $25,000 covered by insurance.

The boat was commanded by a crew of nine, in charge of Capt. S. Wallace, All were on board when the fire started except Capt. Wallace.

The members of the crew lost most of their personal belonging, together with cash. Thomas Thompson, chief engineer, lost $150. After the fire was under control he recovered a pocketbook containing $90 of this. The money was badly charred.

K. Harai, chief butler, Japanese, lost $115, and S. Gotto, second butler, Japanese, lost $117.

It is reported that there were about 800 gallons of gasoline aboard the yacht, but there were no explosions, as the fluid was in big metallic cans, which were unaffected by the fire.

The discharge of rifle bullets aboard the yacht kept the crowd at a safe distance from the fire.

Many persons, some from Washington, visited the ship yard yesterday to gaze upon the charred hull of the boat, which had been seen so often in the river during the summer season.

SOCIALIST LABOR PARTY

The Socialist Labor Party at their convention in New York last night nominated Arthur E. Reitner, of Boston, for President, and Cabel Harrison, of Chicago, for Vice President. They adopted a platform, some of the planks of which are as follows:

The means of production "must be owned, operated and controlled by the people in common."

Socialist Labor party aids to substitute a system of social ownership of the means of production, industrially administered by the working class—the workers to assume control and direction as well as operation of their industrial affairs.

This solution of necessity requires the organization of the working class as a class upon revolutionary, political and industrial lines.

We, therefore, call upon the wage workers to organize themselves into a revolutionary political organization under the banner of the Socialist Labor party, and to organize themselves likewise upon the industrial field into a revolutionary industrial union in keeping with their political aims.

A resolution was passed urging employees to organize industrially "on the principles of the workers of the international industrial union, and do all in their power to show the fallacy of craft unionism as exemplified by the American Federation of Labor," which was characterized as "a mere watch-your-job-and-boost-your-pay organization."

Many persons who study the signs of the times believe that when the present terrible war shall have burned itself out socialism will be given a great boost. Socialism, under one name or another, is growing rapidly throughout the world, and the time may not be far distant when this party will be able to assert itself. Heretofore it has been a sideshow in Presidential campaigns in the United States, but the time may be drawing near when principles like those enunciated above will be put into practice. There is enough distress and perplexity already in the world. What will be conditions when platforms like the above crystalize? Political principles propagated on "revolutionary political and industrial lines" are ominous in this day of unrest.

WILSON STOCK ADVANCING.

The season of political polls has arrived and the efforts so far made to sound public sentiment by this means have been so encouraging to the friends of the President that the Democratic National Committee has made public the result of a series of straw votes taken in different sections of the country.

These votes indicate that Democratic stock is far above par; that the President's popularity has grown instead of diminished; that the party's strength is more manifest than at any time since 1912, and that many Republicans are prepared to vote for the re-election of Wilson, whomever their own party may nominate.

The fact is pointed out that the President showed surprising strength in the German district of New Jersey at the primary a few days ago. All the German districts turned out in large numbers to vote the ballot with Wilson's name upon it. This was particularly so in the almost exclusive German colonies in the Hudson City section of New Jersey and in the north Hudson towns along the Palisades."

Assurance that Methodists of the United States were in sympathy with President Wilson's efforts to keep the United States from becoming involved in the European war was voiced yesterday at Saratoga Springs, by Bishop Earl Cranston, of Washington, D. C.,

"I would assure the President of the United States," Bishop Cranston said, "that whatever temporary backsliding may happen when a few Methodists here or yonder may fall under the spell of a magnetic political leader, the great body of our people are in full sympathy with all of his patriotic and Christian endeavors to keep this nation out of the European embroilment. We, Methodists, do not believe that it is patriotic for a few Americans to insist upon their technical right to travel at sea in such a time as this, for personal reasons, at the risk of bringing the horrors and desolations of war upon millions of their fellow-Americans."

VIRGINIA'S ALUMNI IN CONGRESS.

The roster of the Washington alumni, of the University of Virginia who will give a banquet on May 12th in honor of the University of Virginia Faculty, contains the names of many distinguished men, among who may be mentioned: President Wilson ('84), Attorney General Gregory ('84), Justice McReynolds ('84), Senators Oscar W. Underwood (84), John Sharp Williams (72), Mississippi; Claude A. Swanson, B. L., (86), and Thomas S. Martin (67); and Representatives Campbell Bascom Slemp (92), Edward W. Saunders B. L. (82),Henry Delaware Flood, B. L. (86), William A. Jones, B. L. (70), Walter A. Watson (89), E. E. Holland (80) and Andrew J. Montagues, B. L. (85) .

A score of other senators and representatives are on the list.

Comparisons with the alumni representations of sister institutions shows that the University of Virginia with 9 alumni in the Senate and 18 in the House, ties with Michigan, which also has 9 alumni in the Senate and 18 in the House. Virginia leads Harvard, which has 3 alumni in the Senate and 18 in the House, and also leads Yale, which has 5 in the Senate and 11 in the House.

The University of Virginia's strength in Congress is even more remarkable when it is remembered that in round numbers Michigan has 40,000 living alumni and 7,000 students; Harvard, 35,000 alumni and 6,000 students; and Yale, 25,000 alumni and 3,500 students; while Virginia has only 9,000 alumni and slightly over 1,000 students.

TREASURES FOR THE LAST DAYS.

After cleaning up more than $10,000,000 in the oil business and more than $8,800,000 in gold mining, besides about $2,000,000 in grain brokerage and drug chemical manufacture, John L. Milliken of St. Louis, announces his intention to return strenuously to gold mining.

Sinclair Oil and Gas Corporation paid him $9,500,000 cash, and $250,000 of its stock for oil lands, refinery and pipe line in Oklahoma.

Signalizing his return to digging up yellow metal, he is sinking a shaft near Lead, S. D., at the southern end of the celebrated Homestake mine, which has paid $300,000,000 so far to its owners.

"If we strike the vein there," he remarks casually, "we hit $200,000,000 of gold."

RUSSIANS TO WEST FRONT.

(Baltimore American).

The announcement of the arrival at Marseilles of three contingents of the Russian army, which is to be transferred to France from Russia, warrants the inference that this readjustment of the Allied fighting forces is now in active process, Information is not given as to the number of the forces included in the first three deliveries, but the uncensored reports say that about 250,000 Russians will be moved around to the west front.

The presumption is that this large Russian force is being sent out from Archangel, Russia's Arctic seaport, on transports that will keep beyond the German submarine range, and that disembarkment will be made at various French ports. The voyage from Archangel to Marseilles represents a distance of fully 4,000 miles. It is a long way over which to move an army, but great armies have been transported over longer distances when the facilities for moving armies by water routes were nothing like so expeditious as they are now. Two hundred and fifty transports, carrying each upon an average of 1,250 men would be sufficient to convey the entire force without making any round trips.

It is hardly to be questioned that the Allied powers could assemble such a transport fleet as would handle this big army-moving proposition without round-trips. The British and French navies include about 130 first second and third-class cruisers that can be used as transport ships, and there are probably 400 other ships of large tonnage now exclusively in use by the Allies for transport service. The moving of a Russian army of 250,000 from Archangel to any French port is not so stupendous as it might seem at first thought. It is quite conceivable that there may not be a lapse of thirty days between the disembarkment of the first contingent and the last.

GERMAN FAILURE AT VERDUN.

(Richmond Times-Dispatch)

Despite occasional outbreaks of German activity east or west of the Meuse, it seems to be apparent that the efforts to capture Verdun already have been abandoned, and that that ambitious enterprise, pursued for a time without regard to cost in munitions or lives, must be written down a failure.

Along the greater part of the Verdun line the offensive has passed to the French, and the German onslaughts appear designed to consolidate the ground already won, and to make its permanent retention feasible, rather than to push the crown prince through to the inner gates of the fortress.

Even German reserve supplies cannot endure the daily and nightly consumption of ammunition on the scale of the recent great offensive. The ammunition so consumed represented not only tens of millions of dollars, but many days' work of many thousands of men. On the industrial side there is a limit to such expenditure of effort, and of course, on the human side there is a limit also. The German staff must have become convinced at last that Verdun was not worth the dreadful price that further advances would represent.

The subcommittee of the anthracite miners announced in New York that it would report Monday to the tri-district board, or scale committee, of the workers. The board is expected to indorse the tentative wage agreement entered into between the members of the subcommittee and operators. The agreement will be made public today. The following statement was issued by the anthracite miners: "The agreement entered into gives the miners wage increases from 7 to 15 1-2 per cent, a form of recognition of the union and an eight-hour day.

Frank B. Paulding, who was shot twice Saturday, by his younger brother, John T. Paulding, jr., following a quarrel in the stable at their home in Martinsburg, W. Va., died yesterday evening. The dead man was 25 years old. His brother, aged 23, is said to have been drinking and in a morbid frame of mind over what he believed to be the greater regard in which the older boy was held by the parents.

"He ruined by daughter—even hell is too good for him," said L. B. Holland, of Holland & Hunt, the biggest wholesale flour and feed company in Mississippi, as he stepped from the Acme Cafe in Hattiesburg, Miss., yesterday after shooting to death Selma R. McCrorey, the day manager. "Defend yourself!" Holland shouted on entering the cafe. Before McCrorey could move he began firing. McCrorey was standing behind the cash register. The first shot fired went through his heart and he fell with his face to the floor. Holland then walked around the counter and fired the four remaining bullets into McCrorey's heart. He was walking toward the police headquarters when met by a policeman, who disarmed him.

The first victim was being chased by officers in a suburb of Knoxville and ran out on the tracks in front of the train. The second, aged apparently 20 years, was run down near Johnson City, Papers on the latter's person indicated he was Samuel Smith, of Chattanooga.

The first meeting of the Men and Millions Movement of the Christian Church to be held east of the Ohio river will be held in Lynchburg this week. The men and Millions Movement had its inception a year or more ago in a Chinese mission of the Disciples of Christ, when it was proposed to raise several hundred thousand dollars for equipment in that field. From this the fund was increased to a million, and finally R. A. Long one of the largest lumber dealers in the United States, who is a resident of Kansas City, offered to give a million dollars to the fund if the effort was increased to $6,500,000, and his offer was accepted. About $3,000,000 is to be used for better mission field equipment. The movement also calls for one thousand new missionary workers and for an every member canvass in every congregation for missionary enterprise.

NEW RECORDS SET.

Congressmen See Some Remarkable Flights at Newport News.

Newport News, May 1.— Flying the biggest hydro-aeroplane ever built, Theodore McCauley, an instructor in the Curtiss aviation station, here, yesterday smashed three world's records for a machine carrying seven passengers, in addition to setting a new American record for a craft of this type.

Victor Carlstrom, flying the new twin engine military tractor biplane the first ever flown in this country, also set a new record for altitude for a machine carrying one passenger when he ascended 16,500 feet. This beat the former record, set April 1, by Steve MacGordon, by 1,700 feet. Carlstrom was in the air 1 hour and 31 minutes, and reached a height of 3.12 miles. Extreme cold which caused ice to form on the radiator made further climbing impossible, although it was warm on the ground.

McCauley, carrying six passengers was in the air 70 minutes and flew 88 miles. This broke the world's record for endurance and distance.

The third world's record broken was for speed, the machine making 100 kilometres, or 62 miles, in 50 minutes. An altitude of 950 feet gave him the American record in this respect. The former records for a machine carrying six passengers was held by a Frenchman, Garaix, and was made April 22, 1914.

The flights were witnessed by a committee of Congress who were here to consider the plan to establish an aviation corps in connection with the Coast Guard service. The party arrived on the cutter Apache.

GEORGETOWN LADY HAD BEEN IN POOR HEALTH FOR YEARS

Relates How "Dreco" Restores Her. Has No More Gas or Sour Stomach. Is stronger and Sleeps Well

"Twenty-five per cent of our educated people die from ignorance," is the recent statement of a noted scientist. "Although paradoxical, the truth of this statement is significant, especially with respect to those who live in the cities."

Washington may be taken as an apt illustration that will apply to American cities in general, where there is a constant bustle and strife to earn a living to make a fortune, or excel in any line of endeavor. The grind whether of physical labor, mental toils or the exactions of society, tells upon the nerves of the human structure. The pace is too fast and far astray from the simple plan of nature. After a wide search Dreco was discovered, which is a combination of plants, from the juices of which is extracted a tonic which has proven to be the greatest of all known remedies for the stomach, liver, kidneys, and blood. This is now widely known on account of its reviving and reconstructing powers, which is so noticeable that the user finds himself infused with new life and energy as if by magic.

Daily, Dreco is obtaining converts in Washington, which it attested by the signed statements of people who have given it a fair trial. For instance the testimonial of Mrs Mary Oman, of 3239 P Street, Georgetown, a well-known and popular lady, states, "For a long time I have suffered with gas forming in my stomach, belching, and sourness. I was losing my strength and could not sleep well. I suffered a great deal and dreaded to sit down to the table. Three bottles of Dreco have made a different person of me. I am much stronger, sleep well and the gas does not bother me any more. I heartily recommend Dreco."

Dreco is sold in Alexandria by Allen's Drug Store. Price $1.00.

WAR ON THE MOSQUITO.

Dissertation on Mission of Troublesome Insect ...

Dr. Edward A. Gorman, city health officer, who spent the past three weeks in Cuba and New Orleans, returned to his home in this city yesterday.

In connection with Dr. Gorman's return James F. Peyton, the dean of the Alexandria newspaper correspondents, finds occasion to rid himself of the following dissertation on the mosquito:

"Mosquitoes that would buzz and bite and disseminate malaria and annoyance are to be nipped in the breeding, if Dr. E. A. Gorman, city health officer, who returned yesterday from a three weeks' trip to Habana and New Orleans, falls in with plans said to be contemplated by the committee on health of city council, of which Alderman Maurice Wilkins, is the chairman. Alexandria has never staggered under the prodding of the deadly stegomyia fasciata, but his brother, the cluex pungens, or ordinary cesspool mosquito, though with a less hifalutin name, is an annual visitor. This year he is to be shown that he is not welcome, unless plans suggested go unheeded and the Rosemont Citizens' Association runs out of writing material.

That association, through its president, Edward H. Kemper, recently submitted to council a report of D. L Van Dine, an entomologist in the Agricultural Department, who several weeks ago made a personal inspection of Rosemont and its environs, and that paper is now before the health committee. Mr. Van Dine finds nothing to criticise in Rosemont proper, but he calls attention to the unsightly dumping ground near the Union Station and stagnant pools nearby, which, he says offer unlimited possibilities for the development of the common culex. He suggests remedies such as draining and oiling, and these suggestions, it is understood, will now be submitted by the health committee to the health officer, with a view of starting a campaign of extermination early in the season.

The members of the Rosemont Citizens' Association are very much in earnest, and they are being aided and abetted by other residents of the western section of the city. Their campaign is expected to stir into activity citizens of other sections of Alexandria, and those interested predict that the campaign will end the existence of disease-breeding 'dumps' within the corporate limits of the city.

SERIOUS LABOR SITUATION

Two Hundred Thousand Said to be About to Strike.

New York, May 1—New York city has seldom if ever, been confronted with a more serious labor situation than that which is taking shape today. By sundown it is altogether probable that 200,000 workers, representing the bulk of the employes in various trades, will be on strike.

But it is not only in New York City that the situation is looming ominous. Today, May Day, strikes in about every walk of industrial activity are to be called, if demands previously presented by the workers are not met. As an example take such a seemingly timorous set of workers at the bakers. Their national organization embraces some 100,000 men. In every city of any size they have demanded higher wages to be paid beginning May 1, It is altogether likely that the demands will be met in New York City, where there are 15,000, and that there will be no strike the demands will not be met, and that there will in consequence be a walkout.

The spirit of unrest has spread and is spreading to every nook and corner of the country. In the words of one commentator on the economic aspect of the situation today, never before has the country been face to face with such a widespread demand for higher wages and shorter hours.

Locally the numbers of workers involved are divided as follows: Garment workers, 60,000; metal workers, 40,000; bakers, 15,000; painters, 20,000; carpenters, 20,000; mineral workers, 1,200; architectural iron workers and bronze erectors, 4,500, and steam plumbers and plumbers, who are not making demands, but who will probably be forced out of work 10,000.

Perhaps the most important of the future pending and threatened strikes is that of the four great railroad brotherhoods, the trainmen, the engineers, the firemen, and the conductors. Four hundred thousand men are affected.
